THE FUTURE OF SOCIAL SECURITY SYSTEMS

PROBLEM

All social security systems are centralized and not everyone has access to social security systems.

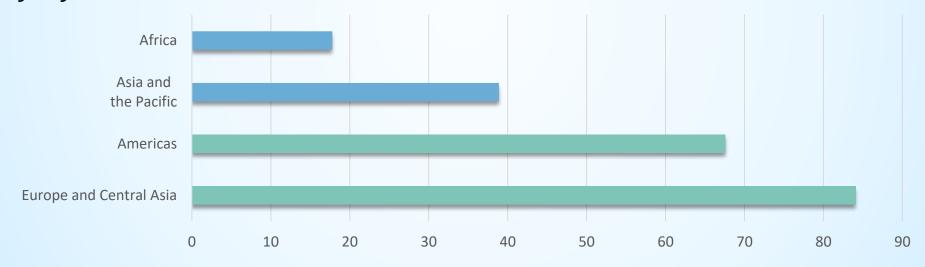

This sector is not disrupted yet.

PROBLEM: ACCESS

Social security plays a central role in economic and political development and is one of the most effective tools to reduce poverty. And still, 4.1 billion people do not have access to social security systems.

Effective social protection coverage, global and regional estimates by population group (percentage)

PROBLEM: INEFFICIENT INFRASTRUCTURE

Countries have a very high administrative expenditure for the operation of social security systems.

(Germany's expenditures in 2017 amounts to approx. € 24.2 billion)

Susceptible to error, fraud and corruption.

(2% to 5% on average and up to 10% of overall expenditures are lost)

Outdated infrastructure.

(up to 40 years old)

Lack of automation and digitization of administrative processes.

Today's social security infrastructure is not capable of handling tomorrow's requirements.

PROBLEM: BLOCKCHAIN

Scaling

 Today's blockchains do not scale enough for many social security usecases.

Smart-Contracts

 Today's smart contracts do not allow for more complex processes.

Process- and Data-Management

 Processing data within the blockchain is expensive and very cumbersome.

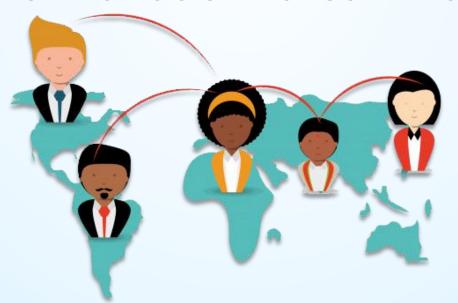

Today's blockchains are not capable of handling tomorrow's requirements.

OUR SOLUTION

We provide the blockchain infrastructure for 10 billion people to have access to decentralized social security systems and achieve a great social impact where it is needed the most.
